

MEDIA COMMUNICATIONS

ABOUT

Media Communications, part of the Arts, Literature, and Communication program, is a two-year pre-university DEC program that allows students to become familiar with the technologies of communication, while also preparing them for university studies in a broad range of disciplines.

Media Communications is comprehensive and interdisciplinary. Students will be exposed to both theoretical as well as practical media production techniques while gaining an in-depth understanding of methods for cultural analysis. If you're searching for a pre-university program that allows you to work creatively while developing your technical skills, then this program is for you.
